

The logo

The logo of the XIIIth Congress includes a caravel in allusion to the arrival of the Spanish colonizers to the River Plate; the Potosi Hill, that stands for the relevance the silver exploitation in the Alto Peru had for colonial economy, and a couple of wheat spikes indicating the importance of the agricultural activities in modern Argentina.

Introduction

The XIIIth Congress of the International Economic History Association (IEHA) will be held at the Hilton Hotel Buenos Aires, Argentina, on 22–26 July, 2002. It has been declared an event of "national interest" through Resolution N° 390/98 issued by the Secretary General of the Presidency of the Argentine Nation. The Universidad de San Andrés is in charge of the organization of the Congress and has been granted support by several academic institutions such as the Academia Nacional de la Historia and the national economic history associations of Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay. The Interamerican Development Bank, the Banco Central de la República Argentina and the Banco de la Nación Argentina are among the sponsors of the Congress.

The Executive Committee of the IEHA is responsible for the preparation of the scientific programme of the Congress, while the Local Organizing Committee is in charge of the logistic coordination and the organization of the event. The Congress is presided over by the President of the IEHA, while representatives from Brazil and Uruguay have a position as Vice–Presidents.

This brochure contains the final programme of the XIIIth Congress, corresponding to the two summons to submittance of proposals for sessions. Those interested in taking part in any session should directly contact the organizer thereof. Enquiries concerning scientific aspects of the Congress may be addressed to Prof. Jan Luiten van Zanden, Secretary General of the IEHA, or to the Scientific Secretariat of the Congress. Both addresses appear in the last page herein.

Besides, the following pages contain general information about the organization of the Congress, and details on the registration and travel agency. Those willing to attend the Congress should fill in the registration form attached (also available on the webpage) and send it to the Local Organizing Committee in Buenos Aires, before February 1 and no later than June 1, 2002.

International Economic History Association

The International Economic History Association, which unites national and regional associations, was set up to develop and maintain personal contacts among economic and social historians of all countries. Eternautas is an Argentine company of cultural tours created and directed by historians from the University of Buenos Aires. Rides – in air conditioned vans– are based on a central subject, where history, culture and architecture are the main characters. This conception provides, in an enjoyable and dynamic way, a deep comprehension of the city and the Pampas area that surrounds it. All their services are made only in one language (English, French, Spanish), to prevent passengers from getting bored by translations, and to let them make questions and give opinions.

The Congress Hospitality Desk will be open from July 21 to July 26 at the Hilton Hotel. During this term, specialized personnel will be at the disposal of attendants to provide information and assist them in solving problems.

Working hours:

Alem, designed by Architect Carlos Altgelt towards the end of the XIXth century, and enlarged at the beginning of the XXth century. The moving to the Archives' present premises took place during the 1950's.

Participants will also be able to visit the exhibition entitled Memory and Archeology: the Argentine State–Owned Companies, showing graphic evidence (plans, photos and mementos, among others) of the companies privatized during the 1990's. It consists of an attempt to illustrate the development of the large public utility companies –plants, work places and methods and worker's features– through material from the Photographic Archives and the Intermediate Archives. At the latter, a relevant documentary fund has been recently formed concerning companies once owned by the State, such as SEGBA (electricity), YPF (oil), ENTEL (telecommunications), OSN (water supply), BANADE (bank), Flota Fluvial (River Fleet), Junta Nacional de Granos (Cereals National Board), Junta Nacional de Carnes (Meat National Board), and other.
