

Economics 315

American Economic History

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is a survey of American economic history from colonial times to the present. The course is organized chronologically and selectively. Certain topics and themes will be stressed while other topics will be discussed only briefly or even ignored. This is not a reflection on the importance of those topics; rather, it reflects the need to cover a great deal of material in a single semester.

ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The CSB|SJU Economics Department has developed the following goals and objectives for student learning in the department:

Goal 1: Students of economics will be able to apply economic theory to understand economic issues and policies by:

- 1.1: Analyzing interactions between human values and economic life;
- 1.2: Demonstrating a knowledge of and ability to apply appropriate analytical tools; and
- 1.3: Recognizing the diversity of methodologies practiced in conducting economic analysis.

Goal 2: Students of economics will be able to evaluate evidence bearing on those economic issues and policies by:

- 2.1: Identifying, locating, and assessing the necessary quantitative and non-quantitative information, facts and arguments; and
- 2.2: Employing both quantitative reasoning and computing skills where appropriate.

Goal 3: Students of economics will be able to communicate effectively the results of their economic analysis through:

- 3.1: Clear writing, appropriately supported and documented;
- 3.2: Effective participation in discussion; and
- 3.3: For majors, polished oral presentations.

COURSE LEARNING GOALS

By the end of this course, students will:

- Have a clear sense of the long run development of the U.S. economy ;
- Understand how economic theory can be applied to understanding historical issues;
- Understand how historical episodes can be used to develop and test economic theory;
- Improve their ability to read journal articles and monographs critically.

PREREQUISITES

Economics 111 is required for this course. Any additional courses in economics and history will also be helpful.

GRADES IN THIS COURSE

The Academic Catalog states, “Intellectual achievement is more important than grades. Grades, however, are necessary for advisory purposes, for determination of the quality of academic achievements and for transfer of credit to other institutions. Grades are designated by letters. In order to compute averages, numerical values called honor points have been assigned to the grades as follows:”

Letter grade	Interpretation	Honor points for each credit
A	Excellent	4
AB		3.5
B	Good	3
BC		2.5
C	Satisfactory	2

CD		1.5
D	Minimum Passing	1
F		0

I will apply this scale AND the interpretation of each grade to all of your work.

CLASS PARTICIPATION

Economic history is a subject in which each topic builds on earlier topics. Thus, it is essential for you to keep up with the reading and class discussions in order understand the material. I will encourage this process by basing 20% of your course grade on class participation.

The format of the class is a blend of lecture and discussion, so class participation is essential. This means that you should come to class prepared to ask questions and to take part in the discussion. I will use the Socratic method, i.e. I will choose a student at random and ask her/him questions concerning the day's material. I do not do this to be hostile, but simply to keep people on their toes and to encourage students to keep up with the class material.

STUDENTS WHO ARE CALLED ON AND WHO ARE NOT IN CLASS WILL RECEIVE FEW POINTS (IF ANY) FOR CLASS PARTICIPATION. Thus, if you know that you will be absent from class, please tell me in advance so that I can note this and not call on you.

QUIZZES

There will be three quizzes. They will be given on September 13, October 4, and November 15. These will be 25 minute, in-class, closed-book quizzes, consisting of terms and multiple choice questions. The three quizzes together will count for 30% of your course grade.

The first quiz will cover material from August 26 through September 11, the second quiz will cover material from September 13 through October 2, and the third quiz will cover material from October 16 through November 11.

EXAMS

There will be two exams, a midterm exam and a final exam. Both exams will be in-class, closed-book exams consisting of terms and essay questions.

The midterm exam will be given on October 25 and will cover material from August 26 through October 23. It will count for 20% of your course grade.

The final exam will be given on Thursday, December 19, at 1 pm. It will count for 30% of your total grade. It will be a comprehensive exam.

GRADING OPTIONS

Some students may choose to take this course on a satisfactory/unsatisfactory (S/U) basis rather than for a letter grade. The college policy regarding who may or may not take the course S/U is in the current Academic Catalog. You must inform me that you intend to take the course S/U by 5 p.m. on Friday, December 13.

PLAGIARISM

I will apply the institutional policy on plagiarism in this course. The complete policy is available here: <http://www.csbsju.edu/Documents/Academic%20Advising/Academic%20Misconduct%20Policy%201-25-12.doc>

CLASS CANCELLATION

I may need to cancel class during the semester due to weather, illness, etc. If class is canceled, there will be a note in your e-mail telling you that class is canceled. If you arrive at our classroom and find a note written on the board saying that class is canceled, you should contact the Economics Department office (Simons 250, phone number 363-3516) and confirm this with the department secretary. DO NOT ASSUME THAT THE NOTE IS CORRECT!

DISABILITY INFORMATION

The colleges have support systems in place for those students who have an official diagnosis for a Learning Disability or a Physical Disability. If a student has had a diagnosis for a specific Learning Disability or a Physical Disability, the Office of Academic Advising will notify me and will provide information on current CSB|SJU accommodations. If a student volunteers information regarding a Learning or Physical Disability I will contact Academic Advising.
