5-6 PM EDT (USA):
President Hugh Rockoff, Distinguished Professor of Economics, Rutgers University. The title of his address is: Oh, How the Mighty Have Fallen: Common Features of the Bank Failures that Started America’s Greatest Financial Panics.

About the President:

EHA president, Hugh Rockoff is a distinguished professor of economics at Rutgers University, a research associate of the National Bureau of Economic Research, and an inaugural fellow of the Cliometric Society. A scholar of wide-ranging interests, he has written numerous journal articles and edited volumes on banking and monetary history, financial markets, sovereign debt, the economics of war, the growth of government, and the history of thought. His three books The Free Banking Era: a Re-Examination, Drastic Measures: a History of Wage and Price Controls in the United States, and America’s Economic Way of War: War and the US Economy from the Spanish-American War to the Persian Gulf War have profoundly influenced the course of scholarship on bank regulation and the management of war. His grand view is laid out in his acclaimed textbook, History of the American Economy. (with co-author Gary Walton). Our “Wizard,” Rockoff has made his home institution of fifty years, Rutgers, a center for research on economic history, being instrumental in the hiring of three more economic historians, drawing his non-historian colleagues into research projects, and mentoring many students.
